INTERIOR FURNITURE DESIGN MAGAZINE

DESIGN ISSUE - April 2025 - Year XIX - www.ifdm.design

THE GRAND CRU

Design

THE GRAND CRU

Kitchen

The essence of the kitchen revolves around the idea of conviviality. This space evolves, becoming an environment capable of integrating with the living area. Modular systems and intelligent surfaces optimize every aspect, while high-tech appliances offer advanced performance, enhancing the interaction and personalization of the domestic experience.

Unique interaction

The Gaggenau Expressive series features ovens equipped with a high-performance heating system and an invisible grill. Key features include temperataures reaching 300°C, an intuitive user interface, advanced automatic programs, a multi-point core temperature probe for food, and a pyrolytic self-cleaning system.

Gaggenau Expressive

♥ MDW25: Corso Magenta 2

Contemporary languages

Poetica is the new furniture system from Scavolini, design Vuesse. Wood is one of the protagonists of the collection, in addition to its aesthetic value, guaranteed by the processing of the door, which combines retro-inspired motifs with modern and functional details. The 23-mm-thick door features a slim frame made of solid Ash and a central panel veneered to match the essence.

POETICA kitchen, design Vuesse

♦ MDW25: Viale Piave 15

100 YEARS WITH A PHOTOGRAPHIC PROJECT

To celebrate its centenary, the Italian kitchen company Arclinea has devised a special initiative: a photographic exhibition entrusted to the talent of Amélie Ambroise, a renowned French photographer. Amélie, also known for her collaboration with the famous fashion photographer Peter Lindbergh, has managed to capture the essence of Italy through a project that celebrates the beauty of nature and the richness of Italian culinary culture. The images created by Amélie Ambroise showcase 100 Italian ingredients, carefully selected to represent the diversity and authenticity of the territory's gastronomic traditions. Each shot is a tribute to nature and the unique flavors of Italy, engaging in a visual dialogue that narrates stories of taste, passion, and tradition. The exhibition is set up at the Arclinea showroom on Via Durini in Milan, where visitors can also admire a selection of the most iconic creations by architect and designer Antonio Citterio. As Arclinea's creative director for over 40 years, Citterio has played a pivotal role in defining the brand's identity and style through projects that blend functionality and elegance. This photographic project honors Arclinea's 100th anniversary, paying tribute to Italy through a journey that invites exploration and rediscovery of the richness of a culture that turns food into an art form.

