

We love this unique take on curves from Scavolini.

(Image credit: Scavolini)

And Italian home furniture brand Scavolini seems to agree. Fabiana Scavolini, CEO of Scavolini, tells us: "Inspired by nature, curvy forms feature soft, flowing lines that introduce a sense of harmony and comfort to spaces. These shapes are incorporated into furniture, countertops, and overall layouts, aiming to create welcoming environments."

(Image credit: SCAVOLINI )

It's time to say goodbye to boring and minimal design and hello to a sleek, creative, and defining use of glass. This year at Milan Design Week, Scavolini has expanded with its Moda line-up. Designed by Vuesse Design, the clean, sharp lines add dimension to the space.

The particular standout piece for me is the use of glass beneath the extended countertop. It evokes the feeling of creativity and effortless flow within the kitchen. The use of glass removes any feeling of clutter and bulky materials and welcomes a flow-state that brings in a simple and elegant feel to the space.

We've seen the rise in glass-fronted cabinets this year, but this artistic use of glass embraces the material's many facets and unique elements.