ORNARE

Brazilian-based interiors brand Ornare, known for its tailor-made installations for closets, kitchens, bathrooms and home offices, recently reopened its Miami Design District showroom following a full transformation. The space now touts the Timeless collection—and, like its name implies, the closets, bar, bookshelves, desk, island and more are crafted with certified solid wood for long-lasting quality. Each design offers a rich range of finishes, like leather, glass, films and fabrics for individual style. “We are thrilled to bring these gorgeous new designs to the South Florida market, which has eagerly awaited our all-wood collection,” says Ornare director Claudio Faria. A new location is also launching in West Palm Beach at the Flamingo Park Market & Design Center. ornare.com

SCAVOLINI

Niki and Alisha Serras have opened their fourth Scavolini showroom at the Design Center of the Americas in Dania Beach. “The new space features all the latest and greatest Scavolini products, along with some classics,” Niki says of their largest showroom to date at nearly 6,000 square feet. Customers can peruse expansive vignettes of Italian-made kitchens, closets and bathrooms catering to transitional and contemporary tastes. Expect to find new lacquer colorways as well as kitchen cabinets with metallic lacquer, fluted glass and slatted veneers. scavolini.com

BIENAL

More kitchen, bath and closet inspirations can be found at Bienal, a showroom newcomer at the Design Center of the Americas. The family-owned brand, established in 1967 and run by third-generation family members, offers premium finishes, doors, lighting and leather accessories from prominent global brands, many of which are exclusive to this location. Clients are treated to a diverse range of styles with an emphasis on craftsmanship and elegance. Bienal caters to both residential and commercial projects, offering personalized design consultations.
