

BOXLIFE | RAINLIGHT STUDIO SCAVOLINI

"Hiding to organize" is the concept behind Boxlife project conceived by Scavolini in collaboration with Rainlight and its creative director Yorgo Lykouria. A response to the current demand for dynamic spaces that can be transformed, this complete, modular system allows for linear, corner and curved solutions where panels are at the clear forefront. They create wardrobes with retractable doors (single or double) in the kitchen, sliding systems for the living area, wardrobes in the bedroom area, and even the laundry area.
